CABOT

Edwin Burnham's Death Followed Many Months of Illness.

Edwin Burnham, for many years a resident of Cabot, died at his home Sunday, August 10, aged 60 years, after many months of illness. Funeral services were held at the house on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. F. E. Currier of Danville officiating. The floral tributes were many and very beautiful: A pillar from F. and A. M., a star from O. E. S., and a scarf of 60 pond lilies from near family relatives, also many other designs expressing sympathy of other relatives, neighbors and friends. His remains were laid to rest in the family lot in Cabot cemetery.

Edwin Burnham was born in East Montpelier, May 24, 1844, and was the second son of Thomas and Mandana (Wells) Burnham. In August 1861, he enlisted in Co. H, 4th regiment, and served through the entire war, with the exception of a few months when he was sent home on account of typhoid fever. After his recovery he reenlisted and was promoted corporal of Co. I in February, 1865. He was wounded at Cedar Creek, Va., Oct. 19, 1864, by a piece of shell in his left shoulder, but remained with his regiment. He received an honorable discharge at Brattleboro, July 17th, 1865, which was at the close of the war.

September 20, 1867, he was united in marriage to Clara E. Putnam. One son came to bless their home, Albro P., now living in Barre. For some years he resided in Calais, going later to Boston, where his health became impaired, and with his family he moved to Albany, Ga., hoping to regain his health, but not receiving satisfactory benefit he afterward went some time in California, returning to Cabot. In July, 1868, he was called to part with his companion, after months of extreme suffering. On July 20, 1900, he was united in marriage with Clara Lawson. Two children came to bless this home, Lester Freeman, who died March 13, 1907, aged five years, and Laura Frances, who has been spared as a comfort to the bereft mother.

During his illness Mr. Burnham bore his suffering with patience and cheerfulness. He will be missed in his home and in the community. He had held important town offices, being selectman three years, a trustworthy citizen and a kind neighbor. He was a member of Morrill post, No. 35, G. A. R., in which he was past commander and had held nearly all the other offices. He also belonged to the Washington county veterans' association, was a member of Green Mountain lodge, chapter No. 35, F. and A. M., and a charter member of O. E. S. He leaves a wife, two children, three sisters, Charlotte of Woodbury, Mrs. S. J. Ramsden of Palmer, Mass., Mrs. Joe Clark of Stafford, Conn., and one brother, Dudley, of this town.

Those from out of town to attend the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Burnham, Barre; C. A. Burnham, Bristol; Mr. and Mrs. Harrington, Hardwick; Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Daniels, C. H. Dana, F. L. Bateholder, Woodbury; Mr. and Mrs. Warner Lawton, North Calais; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bliss, Calais; Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Lawson and Mr. and Mrs. Ned Webster, Woodbury.

ORANGE

Funeral of I. C. Noyes, A Well-Known Resident, Held Sunday.

The funeral of I. C. Noyes was held from the church last Sunday, Rev. A. J. Lord officiating. Music was furnished for the occasion by a quartet, consisting of Mrs. Agnes Emerson, Mrs. Edwin Peake, J. B. Emerson, and W. H. Crockett.

The many beautiful floral offerings testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held. Mr. Noyes was born in Orange 71 years ago last February and had passed all his life in this town. He was one of a family of ten, of whom four survive: Azro of Barre City, Storrs of Orange, Charles of Wisconsin, and Mrs. Dickey of Minnesota. His wife died several years ago. His health had been very poor for the past few months, but he had not been confined to his bed.

Last Friday morning he seemed in his usual health about 5 o'clock, but had a shock at 6 and died at 10 the same forenoon. Mr. Noyes was a kind neighbor and a good citizen and will be missed by all who knew him.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

"The Sacrifice" at Barre Opera House Next Monday.

The St. John Globe, one of the most conservative and reliable papers in Canada, speaks of Blossom Baird, who will be seen at the opera house on Monday, Sept. 1st, in W. A. Tremayne's four act play of modern life, "The Sacrifice" as follows:

"She possesses a fine stage presence as well as a musical voice, coupled with artistic perception."

In Madge Arnold, the heroine of "The Sacrifice," Miss Baird has a role that fits her like the proverbial glove and gives her an admirable chance to display her versatility. For while Madge's life has in it a deep note of tragedy, she is too thoroughly human to look always on the dark side of things. She has moments of brightness and quaint flashes of humor and the characters by whom she is surrounded are all interesting.

The comedy of the piece is well-looked after and the story of the play is well summed up by a clever newspaper man as follows: "It is the triumph of the woman, forced to acknowledge physical defeat, yet rising to supreme heights through suffering and sacrifice."

A fine scenic production and an unusually competent supporting company are promised. Seats on sale Friday night.

LONDON BOOTBLACKS.

Street Corners Knew Them Early in the Eighteenth Century.

Liquid blacking, such as is now used, was invented early in the nineteenth century. Previously various mixtures were used.

There are many allusions in eighteenth century literature to shoeblacks and blacking. In the London World of Jan. 31, 1764, Edward Moore, describing the miseries of an author, says that he would rather have started in life as a shoeblack had he but had the money to buy or credit to procure "a stool, brush and blackball."

An old kind of blacking consisted of ivory black, very coarse moist sugar and water, with a little vinegar. A mixture of whale oil and soot was used in Gray's time. "The author of 'Trivia' has several allusions to the 'black youth' who stood at street corners then as now:

Hark! The boy calls thee to his destin'd stand.

And the shoe shines beneath his oily hand.

De foe makes his Colonel Jack describe himself when a boy as a dirty vagabond, "like a 'Black your shoes, your honor' a beggar boy, a black-guard boy or what you please, despicable and miserable to the last degree."

Here is another quotation from "Trivia" (1715):

His treble voice resounds along the mews, And Whitehall echoes, "Clean your honor's shoes!"

—London Notes and Queries.

FIRST SLOT MACHINE.

It Was Invented by Hero of Alexandria About 125 B. C.

Hero of Alexandria (about 125 B. C.) was an ingenious inventor of mechanical toys. In his works, "Pneumatics" and "Automata," he describes some hundred small machines that he probably never carried beyond the "model" stage.

These included a steam engine and a double forcing pump to be used as a fire engine.
